

Autopay Terms & Conditions

Parties

In this Autopay authorization, (also referred as Auto Bill Pay), as defined below, the words 'DIRECTV,' 'We,' 'Us' and 'Our' mean DIRECTV LLC, and their affiliated companies, and the words 'You' and 'Your' mean the person or business providing or designating the Payment Method (as defined below) information and any other person who is authorized to make purchases from Us to be charged to the Payment Method.

Autopay Authorization

By checking the box or clicking the button next to the link to this Autopay authorization during Your transaction with Us today as Your electronic signature, You authorize AutoPay, and We will automatically charge the Payment Method You provide to Us today each billing cycle in the amount and on or around the date shown on the bill for that cycle, including Your final bills if service is cancelled by you or us. This amount can include any applicable early termination, equipment non-return or other fees as well as the amount due under any device installment plan upon cancellation. We will store this payment method for AutoPay and any other future payments you authorize or wish to make, and we may receive updates for this payment method from your card issuer. You may withdraw Your AutoPay at any time by canceling Your Service. You cannot cancel Your AutoPay without also cancelling Your Service.

If a charge to the Payment Method is declined, including for insufficient funds, We may re-submit the charge up to the number of times permitted by network rules, and We also reserve the right to undertake further collection action, including imposing costs and fees to the extent permitted by law.

Payment Method

'Payment Method' means the credit card, debit card or other payment method information (1) You provide to Us during Your transaction today (including by swiping a credit card or debit card or scanning a voided check) for purposes of this Autopay authorization or (2) You previously provided to Us (a 'Stored Payment Method') that You designate today to be charged under this Autopay authorization.

Payment Method Information You Provide Today

If You provide Payment Method information to Us today, you authorize Us to store that payment information including for purposes of this Autopay authorization. You certify that You are the owner of or have authorization to use any payment method information You provide today, and You are authorized, and have authority to authorize Us, to make charges to and permit Us to store the payment method information You provide.

You agree to keep any Payment Method information You provide today up to date. Residential and DIRECTV for Business customers can update any Payment Method information You provide today by logging into Your online account with DIRECTV or calling the customer care number provided with Your bill, which updated or changed information will become the Payment Method for this Autopay authorization.

You acknowledge that We may obtain updated or changed information regarding any payment method information You provide today from Your financial institution (an 'Updater Service') and that any such updated or changed payment information likewise will become the Payment Method for this Autopay authorization.

Residential and DIRECTV for Business, if You instead designate a Stored Payment Method for this Autopay authorization today (as discussed below), You can at any time thereafter provide Us with different payment method information to be used for this Autopay authorization by logging into Your online account with DIRECTV or calling the customer care number provided with Your bill, which different information will become the Payment Method for this Autopay authorization instead of the Stored Payment Method You previously designated. Stored Payment Method You Designate Today

If instead You designate a Stored Payment Method for this Autopay authorization today, You authorize Us to make a copy of the Stored Payment Method You designate and store the copy, which copy We will use for purposes of this Autopay authorization. We also use Updater Services in connection with Stored Payment Methods, which also update or change any copy We made and stored. Please be aware that, if You update or change the Stored Payment Method You designate or We or You remove or cancel that Stored Payment Method from Your records with Us, We will continue to retain and use the copy of the Stored Payment Method We made, as it may be updated or changed by any Updater Service from time to time, for purposes of this Autopay authorization.

Revocation

You may withdraw Your AutoPay at any time by canceling Your Service. You cannot cancel Your AutoPay without also cancelling Your Service. If You revoke this Autopay authorization, or DIRECTV or Your financial institution cannot process Your automatic payment, You remain responsible for paying Your monthly payments and any amounts due upon termination of service or Your DIRECTV Account, including by making final payment by check or other payment method on or before the due date on the final bill.

General

Autopay unsuccessful payments may cause an interruption of service and additional reactivation fees. Promotional discounts or incentives that require Autopay will be removed if Autopay is terminated. You release DIRECTV from any and all claims arising from Your use of Autopay. It usually takes one to two billing cycles for Autopay to start, and please continue to pay as usual until Your monthly bill states that the bill will be paid by Autopay. Please print or save to Your computer, tablet, smartphone, or other device a copy of this Autopay authorization for Your records.